District observes National Bullying Prevention Week

During the week of Oct. 5-Oct. 9, each of the schools in the Elmira City School District will take part in a variety of activities to recognize National Bullying Prevention Week.

Elementary schools will engage in individual classroom activities as well as school-wide activities such as poster contests. Most district schools will participate in assemblies that feature students from middle or high school performing educational skits or acting as mentors for the younger students in the audience.

To arrange media coverage of next week's events at particular schools, contact Kathleen Costello at 735-3091.
